ITINERARY

BLD = BREAKFAST, LUNCH, DINNER

DAY 1 - LIMA

Upon arrival in Lima you will be met at the airport and taken to your hotel. No meals included. Overnight at Casa Andina Select.

DAY 2 - LIMA

After breakfast you will visit the National Archeology Museum (closed on Mondays). This is Peru's oldest and largest state museum. It is housed in an old colonial mansion on Plaza Bolivar, in the Pueblo Libre District of Lima. The museum displays a large collection of ceramics, textiles, sculptures, and ancient Peruvian metals dating back to pre-Hispanic times. Some notable pieces in this collection are the Raimondi Stela and Tello Obelisk. Another portion of the exhibit focuses on the country's colonial and republican periods. After lunch at Senorio de Sulco, you will receive an orientation on Lima including a visit to La Catedral. La Catedral is the most important church in any town in Peru. This beautiful colonial building in the Plaza de las Armas presumably houses the remains of Francisco Pizarro—whether the bones are authentic or not is a matter of conjecture. Overnight at Casa Andina Select. (BL)

DAY 3 - SACRED VALLEY

After an early breakfast you will depart for the airport for your flight to Cusco. Upon arrival you will enjoy a cup of Coca Tea and then depart for Yucaj at an elevation of 8,500 feet. The city lies in the Urubamba Valley, which is the historic heart of the former Inca Empire. The Incas intensively cultivated the landscape using terraces that increased the land's harvest several fold and provided food for a large population. The Urubamba Valley is also called the Sacred Valley of the Incas because it was here that, without the benefit of the wheel, the Incas built massive stone cities and ruled an empire that stretched 3,300 miles over some of the harshest terrain on earth. Without the use of mortar, the Incas constructed cities, suspension bridges, and aqueduct systems with an engineering expertise that still exists today. Along your journey through the valley, you will stop at Pisac Market. The town's main square is filled wall-to-wall on these days with stalls selling the full range of Peruvian artesanía: carved gourds (mates burilados), ceramics, felt hats, alpaca sweaters and mittens, musical instruments, paintings, antiques, a huge variety of trinkets, and, most of all, weavings and jewelry. Overnight at Posada Yucay. (BL)

DAY 4 - MACHU PICCHU

After breakfast you will board the train to Aguas Calientes. Upon arrival you will take the bus to the top of the mountain for your guided tour of the ruins at Machu Picchu. The guided tour is about 2 hours and you have the rest of the day to enjoy this magical place on your own. Machu Picchu, known as "The Lost City of the Incas," is probably the best known yet least understood of all Incan sites. Apart from a few locals, nobody knew of Machu Picchu's existence until 1911, when American historian Hiram Bingham stumbled upon the thickly overgrown buildings almost by accident. The quality of the stonework and the abundance of ornamental sites indicate that Machu Picchu must have been an important ceremonial center, but knowledge of the city's history has been lost over time. Overnight at Inkaterra El Mapi. (BLD)

DAY 5 - CUSCO

This morning you will have time explore Aguas Calientes on your own or a second visit to Machu Picchu (please note your second entrance fee and bus costs are NOT included and no guide service). Named for the hot springs located on the edge of town, Aguas Calientes was once a small farming community. In the 1920's it became a railway workers camp and it now serves as the base for visitors to Machu Picchu. This afternoon you will board the train for your scenic journey back to Yucay and on to Cusco. Overnight at Casa Andina Private Collection. (B)

DAY 6 - CUSCO

The early part of today will be spent on your own. This afternoon you will enjoy a guided tour exploring Cusco and surrounding areas starting with a visit to the fortress of Sacsayhuaman. Sacsayhuaman forms the head of the Puma design of old Cusco. It is a wonder of technical achievement and a testament to human will and its construction remains a mystery since the stones are not found in the region, and most of the blocks weigh over a ton. The largest rock weighs more than 300 tons. The ruins are constructed of huge polygonal blocks which interlock with one another and are so precisely placed that a knife blade cannot be inserted between them. Next you will explore Cusco. The center of Cusco is a history lesson. Modern and colonial buildings are built on top of Inca foundations, and colonial churches dominate the central square. The remainder of the day will be at leisure to shop and explore on your own. Overnight at Casa Andina Select. (B)

DAY 7 - LIMA

Today you will be transferred to the airport in Cusco for your flight to Lima. Upon arrival you will be transferred to hotel. You have the day on your own to discover Lima. Overnight at Barefoot Cay/ Standard. (B)

DAY 8 - FAREWELL!

This morning you will be transferred to the International Airport for your departure flight. (B)
